Flash Back

BY NAVEEN MALIK AND AMANPREET DHAMI

Runway gals imitated the mod '60s with daring liner, bold tailored lips and sensational hair. We pay homage to beauty from the rock 'n' roll era — all to your favourite Beatles tunes!

CHRISTIAN DIOR.

Twist and Shout

Soaring back-combed bouffants stole the runway at Christian Dior, Peter Som and Jean Paul Gaultier. This style is known for its height and requires you to tease your hair. Leave some loose pieces at the front for finishing touches — teasing creates a rough finish, so these pieces will help you cover the “nest.” If hair is wet, create extra volume by using an Infiniti Pro Spin Air Brush, which will also increase hair’s shine. Then, flip hair over, tease and flip back, pulling your hair into a medium-high ponytail. Twist hair and set either with a hair clip or use a bobby pin, as seen at Christian Dior. Take the loose pieces from your face and sweep up on top to complete the style.

Editor’s Tip: Teasing weakens the hair shaft. Keep your hair healthy and moisturized with a botanical-oil hair treatment that contains vitamins A and E and essential fatty acids.

Moroccanoil Treatment, $40.80 CDN.

Dig a Pony

This season, there are several different ways to sport the ponytail, from sleek and shiny to messy and sexy. Dominatrix-style ponies took over the Marc Jacobs and Louis Vuitton shows, while models from Gucci donned softer ponies with decorative feathers. Work in a squirt of smoothing lotion from roots to tips before securing back with a stylish ribbon hair tie. The lotion will make it easier to pull your hair back and the soft ribbon will keep hair from breaking at the crown.

Editor’s Tip: Don’t put the sunglasses away yet! Oversized shades are still hot this fall, so add some eye candy to this look.

Alcove Smoothing Lotion, $14.50 CDN.
Sephora Collection Ribbon Hair Ties in Natural, $10 CDN.
